

Tomorrow Never Comes

Zac Brown Band

I've been climbing my way through the sky searching for answers that I'll never find.

Losing my breath as I fall.

Learning to fly letting go of it all.

Learning to fly letting go of it all.

I've been trying to open my eyes.

Take it all in as the world passes by.

Getting lost in the twist and the turn.

Finding these questions inside me still burn.

Finding these questions inside me still burn.

I'm gonna live like tomorrow never comes.

There's no end in sight tonight we black out the sun.

Better hold on tight before you know it's gone and we'll live like tomorrow never comes.

Oooh Oooh Ooooh Oooooooh Ooooh I keep looking for some kind of sign trying to hold on in this race against time.

I can't say where the next bend might be that is the beauty in life's mystery, that is the beauty in life's mystery.

I'm gonna live like tomorrow never comes.

There's no end in sight tonight we black out the sun.

Better hold on tight before you know it's gone and we'll live like tomorrow never comes.

Oooh Oooh Ooooh Oooooooh Ooooh There's no end in sight tonight we black out the sun.

Oooh Oooh Ooooh Oooooooh Ooooh
